Psychosynthesis Today AAP Retreat and Foundations Intensive Course June 10-16, 2011

AAP Retreat

The coordination team of Psychosynthesis Today is delighted to announce that this event will take place from June 10-16, 2011 at the Mercy Retreat Center in Burlingame, California. It is not too late to register for one or both of these events.

The Retreat begins at 7:30 pm on Friday evening, June 10th and ends the following evening at 9:00 pm – unless you want to be dancing into the morning hours!! The Retreat is then followed by the 5-day Foundations Intensive Course.

On Friday evening the participants will gather in the sacred circle of reality and explore how psychosynthesis can contribute to what is happening in the world today. If you are unable to attend this retreat, you can still participate in this process beforehand. Email Judi White at aap.input@gmail.com and request instructions.

On Saturday morning, the circle will create a new constellation. On Saturday afternoon, practical strategies and implementation planning will take place, followed by story creation. Following solitary reflection and dinner, the group will gather once again in the sacred circle for a ritual of renewed community, ending with a circle dance.

If you would like to attend, there is still opportunity for you to participate in person.

To register, please go to <http://www.psynthesis.org/pstoday/index.htm>.

AAP Foundations Intensive Course

The AAP Foundations Intensive Course, scheduled for June 12-16, 2011 to follow the AAP Retreat, is a GO! We currently have 15 people registered for the course to include a cross-section of the psychosynthesis and transpersonal psychology community — from people new to psychosynthesis, to those wanting a refresher, to old hands who want ideas for developing their own workshops. The five-day course, taught by members of AAP's Professional Development Committee, will be held at Mercy Retreat Center in Burlingame, CA near the San Francisco Airport. Remaining slots are filling fast and the final registration deadline is June 1st.

For more information and to register (before the deadline), please go to our web site:

www.psynthesis.org/pstoday/.

This course is the first step in the development of a national training program, coordinated with existing training centers, and offering a variety of learning methods: residential, on-line, video seminars, mentoring, and more. We will keep the community informed as we develop the program.

Quote of the Month

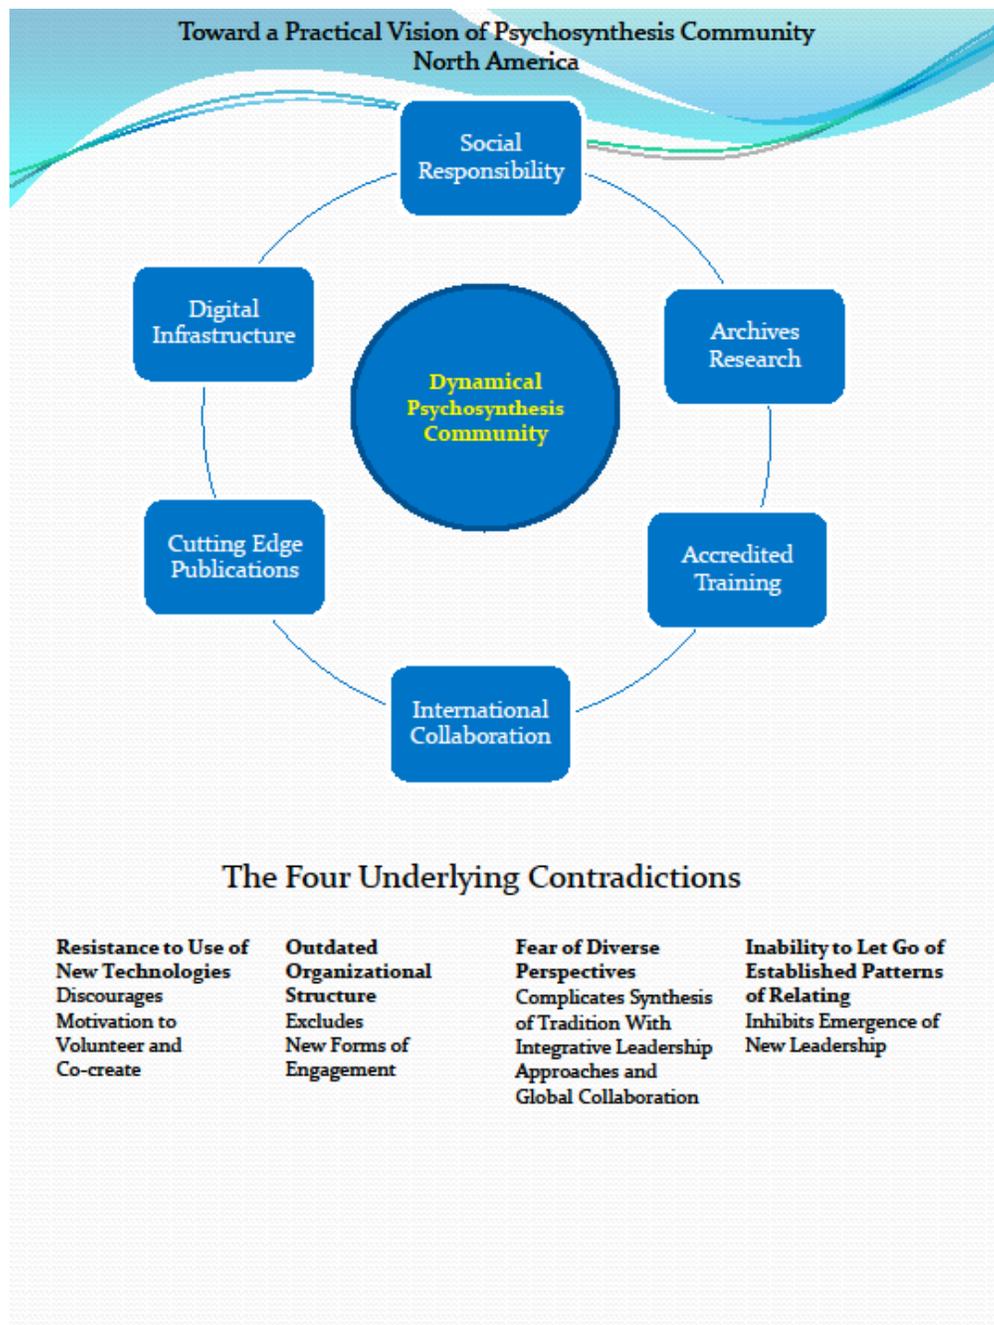

Perhaps the most important thing we bring to another person is the silence in us, not the sort of silence that is filled with unspoken criticism or hard withdrawal. The sort of silence that is a place of refuge, of rest, of acceptance of someone as they are. We are all hungry for this other silence. It is hard to find. In its presence we can remember something beyond the moment, a strength on which to build a life. Silence is a place of great power and healing.

Toward a Practical Vision of Psychosynthesis in North America.

Many members have provided feedback on the strategic planning process, both on the vision clusters and underlying contradictions. This participatory process has been a rich experience. Peter Stonefield has created a visual of the results to date, as indicated below for your consideration. Rather suddenly “twins” are on my path, especially in my work as a coach. As a result some curiosity has arisen in me, and I would like to pose a question for your consideration and response:

What are specific themes for souls who have come here with a twin brother or sister?

I have been searching for literature but haven't find a great deal about soul development. I would like to know a little more, by means of reading or hearing some of your experiences.

Kindest regards,
